

Sociology

- Demonstrate familiarity with and ability to apply major paradigms of classical and/or contemporary sociological theory
- Deploy the sociological imagination to examine and analyze the effects of social structure on individual life chances
- Describe and apply sociological research methodologies
- Apply sociological approaches to analyze patterns of inequality, including stratification of gender, race, class, nationality, disability, age, religion and sexual orientation
- Analyze contemporary US society within the global context