

2007 REU Conference Program

Conference

Research Experience for Undergraduates at Baruch College May 16th - Room 763, Newman Library Building

- 10:00am Professor Charles Scherbaum. Welcoming remarks.
- 10:15am Debra Hoffmann (Baruch College). Do tasks seem more difficult when we're fatigued?
Advisor: Professor Engle-Friedman
- 10:30am Andrea Gaye (CCNY). Examining the relationship between racial differences, the Ravens Progressive Matrices, and testwiseness skills. Advisor: Professor Scherbaum
- 10:45am Tiffany Williams (St. John's University). Controversial issues in the classroom. Advisor: Professor Artistico
- 11:00am Kadija Williams (Brooklyn College). Revisiting aversive racism: Effects of social categorization on selection decisions. Advisor: Professor Park
- 11:15am Gursharan Bharth (Baruch College). Self-Efficacy and initiating contact in a dating situation. Advisor: Professor Artistico
- 11:30am Juliya Golubovich (Baruch College) Non-entrenchment, verbal content, and black-white test performance differences. Advisor: Professor Scherbaum
- 11:45am COFFEE BREAK
- 12:00am Kit Cho (CCNY). Effects of fatigue on helping behavior. Advisor: Professor Engle-Friedman
- 12:15am Irina Khrapatina (Hunter College). Malleability of gender stereotypes. Advisor: Professor Park
- 12:30am Martha Shtapura (Baruch College). The effect of stereotype threat on the performance of immigrants on non-verbal cognitive tests. Advisor: Professor Scherbaum
- 12:45am Chanel Morales (Hunter College). Knowledge-and-appraisal personality architecture (KAPA) and coping with collegiate stress. Advisor: Professor Artistico
- 1:00pm Melissa Arzola (Hunter College). Do insomniacs try harder. Advisor: Professor Engle-Friedman
- 1:15pm Professor Charles Scherbaum. Closing remarks.
- 1:20pm LUNCH