Attend this seminar to learn the difference between saving and investing:

- Asset classes: bonds, stock, and cash equivalents
- Effects on inflation and ‘bull and bear’ markets
- Types of mutual funds

Before investing, carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Mutual fund. This and other information is contained in the prospectus, which you should read carefully before investing. Prospectuses are available from your registered representative. Mutual funds are subject to market risk. Your principal value may decline.

MetLife and its representatives do not provide tax or legal advice. Please consult your tax advisor or attorney for such guidance.

For More Information Contact:
Marc Adamek, CMFC, AAMS, CRPC
Financial Services Representative
RSVP by Nov. 4 by calling or email the following;
Office: 516-686-7228
Email: madamek1@metlife.com
www.marcadamek.com
IMPORTANT NOTE TO ALL METLIFE REPRESENTATIVES WHO CHOOSE THIS OPTIONAL FIELD:

This approval applies to the seminar invitation ONLY. It does NOT constitute approval of the event such as serving refreshments, breakfast, lunch or dinner. You may NOT, therefore, use this approved material UNTIL you receive written approval of the event (serving refreshments, breakfast, lunch or dinner) from CEC and Legal Department. Please send an e-mail to cashnoncashcomp@metlife.com if you have any questions concerning approval of your event (serving refreshments, breakfast, lunch or dinner).

This is not part of the invitation — DO NOT PRINT.