Scholars,

The Honors Student Council hopes you’re staying warm through this long winter chill. The weather hasn’t stopped us! We’re listening to your suggestions and detailing some of the highlights of the coming weeks in this newsletter. It’s been a great month at Baruch so far and the HSC is hoping to heat up the school spirit with some great events. Although it’s tempting to burrow away until those pesky midterm exams are completed, don’t miss out on all the exciting volunteer opportunities and enrichment workshops available. Keep reading to find out more!

- Eligible honors student nominations for the Susan A. Locke Award, representing commitment, intelligence, and energy, are now open until March 7th. General emails were sent out with important attachments. Contact Douglas A. Medina if you have further questions.

- The word leadership is used frequently in connection with success, career, and job market. Learn more about leadership from the professionals during EOC’s Job$mart Career Hour, Tuesday, March 4th club hours in NVC room 12-425. No RSVP necessary.

- The Honors Student Council welcomes all suggestions. Free feel to suggest anything that would make your experience at Baruch better. Visit HSC’s website to browse upcoming events and to leave an idea!

Link: http://www.baruch.cuny.edu/hsc/#!/pageSuggestions

UPCOMING EVENTS

Fellowship and Scholarship Information Session

Thursday, March 6 | 12:45PM-2:00PM
Location: TBA
Start thinking about the myriad of fellowships available and come prepared to learn more about the application process.

American Ballet Studio Theater Rehearsal

Thursday, March 6 | 12:45PM-2:00PM
Meet at the Honors Office for a short walk to the studio
Fulfill a cultural event credit with one of the world’s leading classical ballet companies. RSVP below before meeting Jody Clark Vaisman and Sonja Kostich.
https://baruch.az1.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_4UFPyjhlxpU6Fxj

Social Media Mini-Workshop: LinkedIn

Wednesday, March 12 | 1:00PM-1:30PM
NVC 2-190
In this social media age, LinkedIn is making its way onto résumés. Polish your LinkedIn profile with a workshop provided by Baruch’s Student Career Development Center. Reserve your seat through STARR Search.
UPCOMING EVENTS (CONT’D)

Relay for Life with the HSC Team
March 21, 5:00PM to March 22, 8:00AM
Baruch College Gymnasium

An overnight event full of food and fun activities to benefit cancer research. Stay as long as you like and fulfill your volunteer requirements at the same time.

Link: https://www.facebook.com/events/599288316813003/?ref_dashboard_filter=upcoming

VOLUNTEERING

Volunteer Opportunity:
Boy’s Club of New York (BCNY)

Date/Time: Flexible hours
Location: Throughout New York City

Description: Have an influence on your community by supporting boys and young men develop into responsible and confident individuals. Numerous positions are available in different areas of interest and locations. Check out BCNY’s website for more information.

Link: http://www.bcny.org/index.php