During the past 62 years since its founding in 1947, Dankook University has grown as one of Korea’s leading private universities under its founding motto of ‘National Salvation, Independence and Self Reliance’ as well as the twin guiding principles of ‘Truth and Service’ underlying the motto. Now our university is at an important turning point as it starts a new chapter in its history. Amid the global changes taking place in the 21st century, defined by the knowledge-based economy and information society, the race to cultivate national talent is accelerating. With market principles being applied to college education, universities can no longer advance unless they secure a future-oriented growth engine.

In order to respond to these macro changes, Dankook University built its new Jukjeon Campus as well as announced its A+ Vision 2017 project. These are two core goals that must be met for the success of this master plan in which we will invest 540 billion KRW over the next ten years.

We are aiming at pursuing proactive self innovation by creating change rather than sitting back and merely becoming followers of change. We are upscaling every element the university offers from education, research, services to enhance cooperation between industry and academia in order to meet international standards.

Beginning this year, we introduced the self certification system for majors, the first of its kind in Korea. We will also exert dedicated efforts to strengthen globalization of the university by forming a global network. Our vision is to have our students share knowledge with fellow youths around the world and have our professors join hands with scholars overseas in the quest for knowledge.

We are pleased with the success of the 2009 International Summer School Program. Students experienced a great sense of accomplishment with the program, many stating they were so enriched by the cultural experience they have developed a deep fondness for Korea and desire to return. Building on this success we look forward to the continuation and expansion of this program. It is with pleasure that I extend an invitation for you to join our 2010 International Summer School Program.

We look forward to the heartfelt support for Dankook University as it takes on this new challenge to reinvent itself on top of the foundation of nationhood to become the home of young global intelligence.

PURPOSE

English Village is a community at Dankook University designed to simulate an English immersion environment. Invited native English speaking students (interns) will lead small groups of English conversation classes daily. Students who wish to spend an additional 3 weeks in Korea and receive reimbursement for their flight ticket (up to USD1,200) are invited to apply for the Language & Culture Internship Program. In this program, students will arrive 3 weeks before the International Summer School Program begins and stay in the provided Dankook University dormitories free of charge.

QUALIFICATION

Undergraduate or graduate native English speaking students currently enrolled in universities or colleges outside Korea are eligible to apply.

Note: Participants in the Internship Program must attend the Academic Program

PERIOD

ISP Optional Internship Period (3 weeks): June 21st (Mon.) ~ July 9th (Fri.), 2010

SESSIONS

Students will be given an information package containing information on class instruction and materials. Participating students will be matched with 3 groups of 3 students for 2 hours per group per day. The students are Dankook University students who are interested in English conversation and meeting people from different cultures.

The Korean students will be divided into three groups, A- Beginner, B- Intermediate and C- High Intermediate so participating students are able to handle instruction easily. A brief training session taught by a faculty member of Dankook University will prepare students to lead small discussion groups and free talking conversations with Korean students.

This is a great opportunity to develop friendships with Korean students and gain insight into Korean culture from personal experiences.

TEAM BUILDING ACTIVITY

Team Building Activity will be held on Fridays and it consists of Volley ball and Dodge ball Tournaments and BBQ parties.

ENGLISH VILLAGE (INTERNSHIP) OUTLINE

Oscar Lopez, California State University, San Bernadino, USA

"The memories that I have collected in Korea and DKU will surely take a space inside my heart. The people and culture of Korea has made the country a very hospitable place for me. I am very glad for making the decision of doing the summer program of DKU."

Shelly Park, University of California, Berkeley, USA

"Having such an opportunity to spend time with Korean students and in turn make friends, was the best part about English Village. They were more than willing to go out of their way to take me around town and spend extra time with me, outside of class. A great deal of Hospitality."
QUALIFICATION
Undergraduate or graduate students currently enrolled in universities or colleges as well as high school seniors who have been accepted to a four-year university outside of Korea are eligible to apply. Students will earn up to 6 credits (2 courses) transferable to home Universities.

In this program we offer an opportunity to our partner university undergraduate and graduate students to work on special research projects under guidance of faculty members of Dankook University. This program allows a student to become a part of a research team to design and implement experiments. The main goal of the program is to obtain a deeper understanding of a particular area of research interest as well as to develop creative and independent thinking and problem solving skills.

Under this program, students are expected to conduct the research on either the Jukjeon or Cheonan campus on a full time basis under the direct supervision of a faculty or research staff member from Dankook University for an 8-week summer session, during June 21st ~ August 20th, 2010.

Participation in the special research project is subject to the availability of suitable projects and the approval by faculty members. Each student will meet with a faculty member on a regular basis to discuss, develop and execute a project during the summer months. Alternatively, a student who desires a particular research project not listed on the website’s projects list, may seek out a faculty member who is willing to supervise his/her research and develop a specific project. In this case, the student may be required to submit a research proposal.

Students working on these projects will receive free campus housing, two free cultural classes per week and free field trips on Saturdays (during the International Summer Program and Intensive Korean Language and Culture Program periods) and a meal coupon daily during the summer session.

The following are particular programs that support students in research projects in engineering and science disciplines on our two campuses.

Jukjeon Campus: School of Electronics and Electrical Engineering, School of Polymer System Engineering (Polymer Science and Engineering Major, Fiber System Engineering Major), School of Computer Science and Engineering, Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, Department of Mechanical Engineering, Department of Chemical Engineering, Department of Chemistry, Department of Food Science and Nutrition, Department of Molecular Biology, Department of Applied Physics, and Department of Statistics.

Cheonan Campus: Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, Department of Materials Science and Engineering, Department of Engineering and Chemical Technology, Department of Food Engineering, Department of Industrial Engineering, School of Computer Science (Computer Science Major, Multimedia Engineering Major), Department of Electronic Engineering, Department of Applied Mathematics, Department of Electro-physics, Department of Chemistry, Department of Life Science, Department of Microbiology, Department of Food Science and Biotechnology, Department of Animal Resources Science, Department of Environmental Horticulture, Department of Environmental Science and Landscape Architecture, Department of Pre-Dentistry, Department of Dentistry, Department of Pre-Medicine, Department of Medicine and Department of Nursing Science.

For the research opportunities please contact us (www.dankook.ac.kr/web/eng) to locate faculty members or academic departments/research centers that might be of interest. For students in the engineering and science curriculum, up to six research credits and a certificate will be awarded upon completion of the 8-week summer research program.

Grace Noh, Brandeis University, USA

“The teaching experience that I had during the first three weeks was the most memorable experience I have ever had. I had so much fun communicating with the Korean students at Dankook University. The students were eager to improve their English skills and to teach me about Korean history and culture that I have not known before. The students were open and sometimes they suggested wonderful ideas about going on a field trip. I was not going to Tosando with my students and having a wonderful time hanging out with them.”

Victor Chee, California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, USA

“Overall the program is pretty great. This is only the start so I’m looking forward to seeing it grow and expand in the future. The length of the program was very enjoyable, it was long enough for me to start thinking of Dankook as my home.”

Rachel Ling Dyals, Florida State University, USA

“If I had one complaint about the entire program that I was fortunate enough to be involved in, it would be that I didn’t span out across years of me...But no, I know I must share the wealth. Honestly, this program served as a groundbreaking event for my international journeys in my life, so I think it would be safe to say that it has been more than a dream come true. I am definitely not just blowing smoke and I want you to be on my hasty return plane, please have me back again.”
